

Supply and installation of Special Meeting Room Table with Integral Computers

Supply and installation of a special design Meeting Table that was to provide a centre piece for the new meeting room of the Department of Classics at Cambridge University.

The brief was to design a Special Meeting table, that would seat 12 people and have state of the art, integral computers, and data links. The design incorporated a central glazed display area, with integral lighting, that held ancient busts, and other display items.

Cambridge University
Dept of Classics

InterFocus

lab line